The 'BAND' Together for a Bully-Free School Show

ABOUT THE SHOW

The show is a fun, magical and interactive assembly presentation that teaches children about the important messages of bullying and how everyone's feelings are special and important.

The show is aimed at Key Stage 1 and 2 children and lasts approximately 45 minutes. It links directly with the National Curriculum, PSHE and SEAL. Sarah uses humour, audience interaction, magic, music and visual fun props to encourage the children to ask for help with bullying issues, to respect each others' feelings and to work together to become a bully-free school.

The show begins with a story about four children at a bus stop. Sarah keeps referring back to the story using the BAND acronym to help convey the key messages. This approach is really effective in teaching the children what bullying is, how it hurts peoples' feelings and why people might use bullying behaviour. It also helps communicate that we are all different, but also special and most importantly encourages children to help each other and not be a bystander of bullying.

BAND acronym stands for:

- B - BULLYING IS NOT OK
- A - ASK FOR HELP
- N - NOBODY DESERVES TO BE BULLIED
- D - DO YOUR PART

Testimonial #1

"We are all very aware of the perennial problem of 'bullying' and the many attempts that are made to combat it. The key to any such message is its ability to be remembered. To your credit you have mastered this aspect. Your chosen medium of magic together with a captivating communication skill allowed you to get a serious across in an entertaining and informative way. The response from the young audience gave a clear indication of how well you were received."

Testimonial #2

"The anti bullying magic show that was performed by Sarah Lewis in a primary school in Widnes in front of about 250 children aged between 4 and 10 was outstanding. Sarah was able to maintain the attention of all the children for about 40 minutes during which time she was able to communicate to them many important messages regarding every aspect of bullying and its many side effects. The children were involved in the show that cleverly included several bullying narratives and some highly skillful magic tricks that kept the children's attention as well as enforcing the messages about bullying. Sarah pitched the show at just the right level for the age group and was able to get the children on side and involved immediately."
